Date: December 27, 2023

Subject: VA 2024 Loan Limits

On December 1, 2023, with VA Circular 26-23-26, the VA announced 2024 Loan Limits based on the 2024 FHFA One-Unit (single-family residence) limit.

VA does not publish a maximum guaranty amount for loans greater than $144,000 where the Veteran has full entitlement. For Veterans with partial entitlement, VA's maximum guaranty is a percentage of the Freddie Mac conforming loan limit.

Please see VA circular (attached/below) for additional information. The increases are effective for loans closed on or after January 1, 2024

Please contact our VP of Credit Policy, Pam Trudeau (pam.trudeau@memberfirstmortgage.com) with any questions or concerns.

Thank you

Federal Housing Finance Agency (FHFA) Announces 2024 Conforming Loan Limits

1. Purpose. On November 28, 2023, the Federal Housing Finance Agency (FHFA) announced the maximum conforming loan limits (CLL), also known as Freddie Mac CLL, for 2024. In VA's program the CLL can impact the entitlement calculation for some Veterans. The new FHFA loan limits are found at: <https://www.fhfa.gov/DataTools/Downloads/Pages/Conforming-Loan-Limit.aspx>.

2. Freddie Mac Conforming Loan Limit Impact on Borrowers with Partial Entitlement. If an eligible Veteran with partial entitlement seeks a loan of more than $144,000, the CLL is part of the formula to calculate remaining entitlement¹. In such cases, the amount of remaining entitlement is calculated by taking 25% of the CLL and subtracting the previously used entitlement that was not restored². VA-guaranteed loans are often securitized in pools that require the loan to have a 25% guaranty. For Veterans without full entitlement who do not make a down payment, lenders often limit the total loan amount to four times the amount of the remaining entitlement or, put another way, four times the amount of VA's guaranty. Down payments required on VA loans are typically far less than down payments required on other loan products. As a reminder, the guaranty percentage on the loan guaranty certificate only reflects VA's guaranty on the loan and may not represent total coverage for secondary market purposes.

3. Single and Multi-Unit Properties. Lenders should note that while a Veteran may use a VA-guaranteed loan to purchase a multi-unit property, the entitlement statute requires the use of the CLL applicable to a single-family residence, (i.e., single unit property)³.

4. Interest Rate Reduction Refinancing Loans (IRRRLs). The Freddie Mac CLL does NOT apply to IRRRLs. For IRRRLs greater than $144,000, VA will guarantee 25 percent of the loan amount, regardless of the Veteran's entitlement⁴.

5. Effective Date: The CLL increases are effective for loans closed on or after January 1, 2024.

6. Rescission: This Circular is rescinded January 1, 2025.
